

THE SERVE AND RETURN CHATTERBOX

A fun way to help Kids Build Healthy Brains

Scientists say the way to help kids build healthy brain architecture is through “serve and return” interactions. A child reaches out for interaction (“serves”), and the caregiver responds (“returns”). Here’s a serve-and-return game to play with your children.

Tear along the perforation line below and follow the fold lines instructions on the reverse.

How to fold

Cut the game out and place face down

Fold all corners to the centre

You now have a square

Turn the square over

Fold corners to the centre to make a small square

Like this

Crease the paper lengthwise and then widthwise

Insert your fingers.

Ta-da!

How to play

1. Ask a partner to join you in the game.
2. Ask your partner to pick a word (Live, Learn, Love, or Laugh).
3. Spell the word. As you say each letter, open and close the game frontwards and sideways to show the numbers inside. (e.g. "Live" goes frontwards, sideways, frontwards, sideways.)
4. Ask your partner to pick one of the four numbers.
5. Count up to the number out loud while opening and closing the chatterbox toy.
6. Ask your partner to pick a number again.
7. Open that number. Read the instructions to your partner.
8. When your partner is finished, switch roles!
